Crochet Every Way Stitch Dictionary: 125 Essential Stitches to Crochet in Three Ways

By Dora Ohrenstein (Abrams Books; $34.95)

Sometimes you flip back and forth through a stitch dictionary, unsure if it's a necessary addition to your craft bookshelf. Not so in the case of this gorgeous offering from crochet maven Ohrenstein; this is a must-have, especially if you are interested in the shaping of crochet designs. The patterns are divided into six chapters: Closed Stitches; Mesh, Filet, and Easy Lace; Textured Stitches; Shells; Classic Lace; and Ripples and Waves. Photographs and diagrams accompany each stitch, with notes and explanations about how its particular pattern repeats work. Then Ohrenstein demonstrates its use as a basic pattern, for edge shaping, and for internal shaping. The explanations here are clinical, and you'll soon be using this stitchwork to create your own expertly shaped designs. Bonus: Each chapter follows its own color themes, so the elegant swatches will also be giving you ideas for your crochet palette.

Japanese Knitting: Patterns for Sweaters, Scarves and More

By Michiyo, Translated by Gayle Roehm (Tuttle Publishing; $16.99)

If you have ever longed for the garments in a book of Japanese knitting, only to find yourself stymied by your lack of Japanese and charts that resemble plans for top-secret engineering projects, this is the book for you. Knitter and translator Roehm has taken 23 pieces (both knitted and crocheted) by popular Japanese knitwear designer michiyo and, for the very first time, translated them for an English-reading audience. It's exactly what you've been craving: a clean, refined Japanese style that doesn't sacrifice intricate stitchwork. Whether you go for the modern angles of a contemporary tennis pullover, the crocheted colorwork of a short-sleeve cardigan, a convertible crocheted vest/stole, or an elegant, simple shawl, you won't be disappointed. Roehm's notes are immensely helpful, and her dictionary of knitting symbols will be helpful both with this book and your future forays into Japanese knitting.

Keiko Okamoto's Japanese Knitting Stitches: A Stitch Dictionary with 150 Amazing Patterns

By Keiko Okamoto, Translated and Introduced by Gayle Roehm (Tuttle Publishing; $18.99)

There has perhaps never been a better time to nerd out and stare at stitches. Roehm is at it again, this time translating 150 stitch patterns by one of Japan's most well-known designers, Keiko Okamoto. Expect the unexpected in this dictionary: along with a number of classic stitches to get your needles into, there is much for the more adventurous knitter to explore, combining not only colors, but various textures in a single stitch pattern. Your imagination is your only limitation, but if you're having trouble getting from the pattern to the finished garment, instructions are included for seven whimsical projects, including three-dimensional arm warmers, a Fair Isle basket cover, and a showstopping black-and-white Nordic coat. Roehm's stitch symbol translations are again a lifesaver, and familiarizing yourself with them is going to open up a whole new world of knitting.

Cute Crocheted Wild Animals

By Emma Varnam (GMC Books; $19.95)

Think less "Wild Kingdom" and more "the sweetest, cuddliest wild animals you've ever seen." Varnam is adept at the adorable, and here she turns her hand and her hook to create five pairs of cuddly toys: zebras, monkeys, pandas, lions, and elephants. There's also an extensive wardrobe to create that can be worn by any of the species (all ten toys are similarly sized), from tops, trousers, and pajamas to swimwear, shoes, and accessories (the inner tube and hammock would be first on our list). New to crochet? Varnam includes a helpful index for hooking newbies, with clear instructions and drawings to explain the ABCs of basic crochet stitchwork. Bottom line? You're going to have trouble making only one of these little darlings, and we bet you'll end up with the whole menagerie.

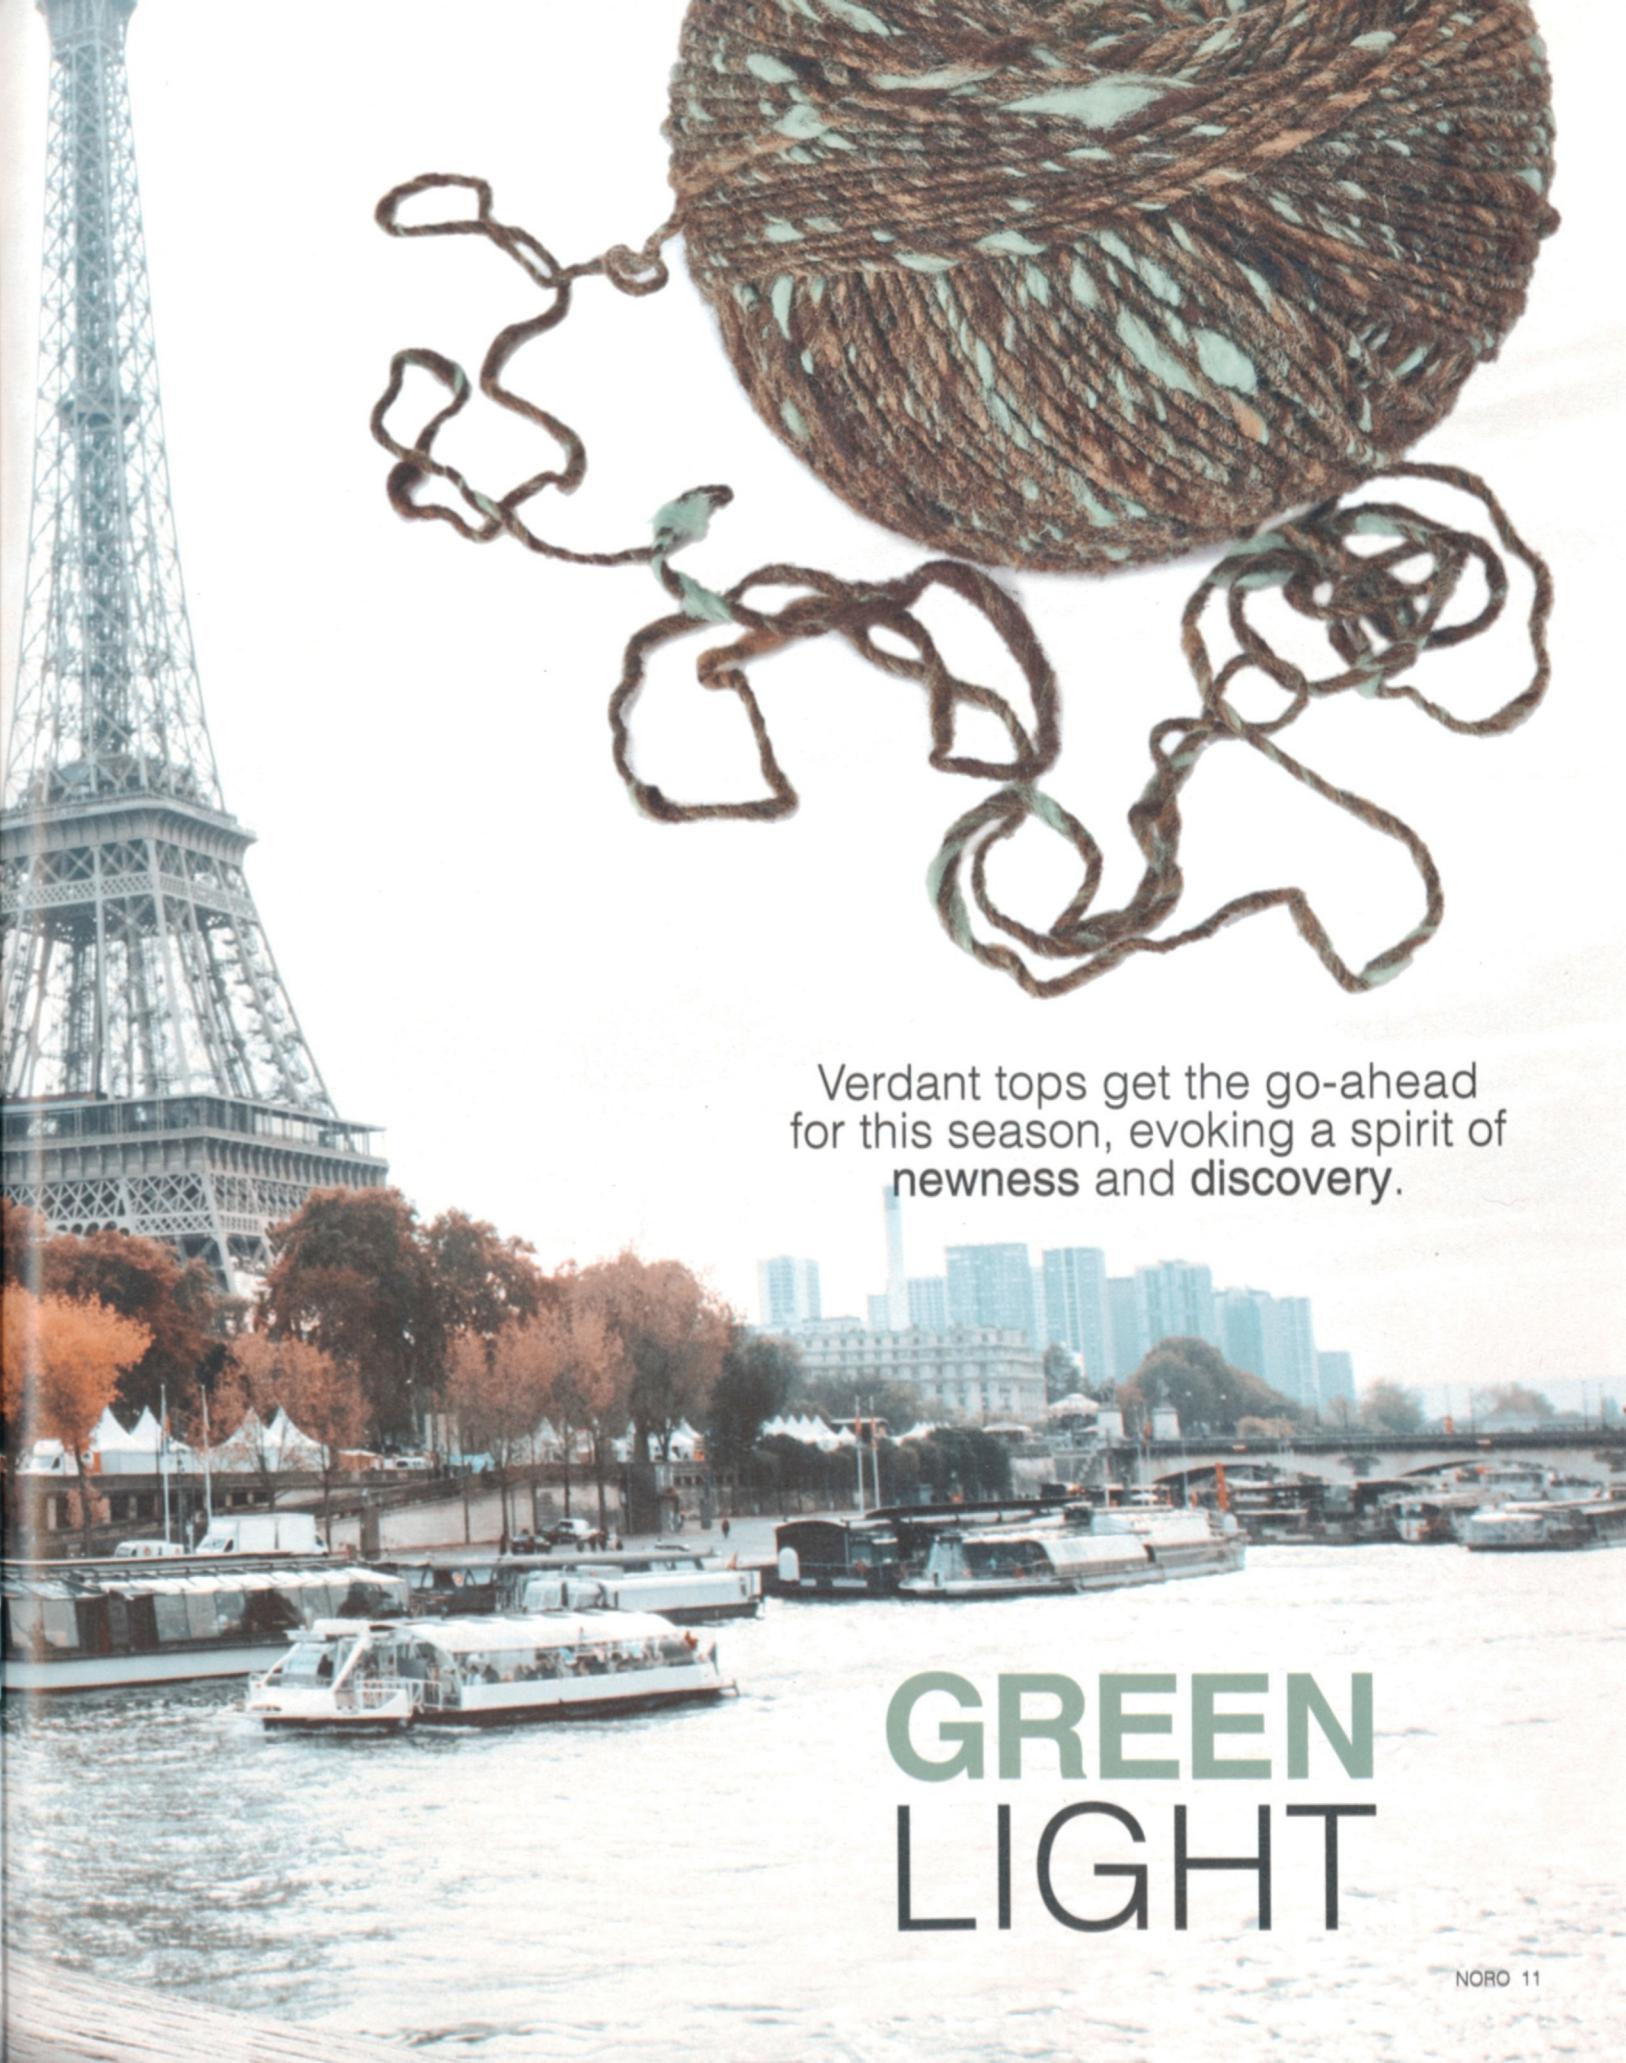

FALL/WINTER 2020

CHANGE IS COMING

The green, brown, and gold of Tsuido colorway #8 are flecked with bright moments of an almost acidic yellow, calling to mind bright sunlight dappling a lush forest scene. Jeannie Chin's shawl-collar cardigan is similarly lush, with set-in sleeves, exaggerated ribbing at the bottom hem, and a cozy, oversized silhouette just meant for long walks on fall days.

Verdant tops get the go-ahead for this season, evoking a spirit of newness and discovery.

GREEN

When spring seems a distant dream, conjure the fantasy with its colors.

2

Rosemary Drysdale's turtleneck does double duty: Wear it on its own when there's a slight chill in the air, or under a blazer when the weather gets more serious. Tabi colorway #6 adds blue, gray, and purple to green, striping across a stockinette body and ribbed neck, hem, and cuffs.

Banish winter blues with a palette picked from bouquets and buds, April showers and May flowers.

Hints of green settle into a calm background of blue and gray in Miyabi colorway #12. This classic, slim-fit V-neck vest, designed by Bea Naretto, hits the body at hip level, and the set-in armholes, hem, and V-neck are all edged with ribbing.

4

Okunoshima colorway #4's candy-store pastels of green, pink, and puce will brighten your days until spring rolls around again, with stripes that utilize just one color at a time. Kennita Tully's pullover presents a fresh, modern silhouette with a relaxed fit, a high-low hem, and three-quarter-length sleeves.

TACTILE CHROMATICS

Can you touch color? When saturated hues combine with innovative texture, the answer is yes.

The rich dark blue, forest green, and violet of Ito colorway #21 provides a fascinating medium for garter-stitch sleeves and a showstopping body of mitered squares. This asymmetric closureless cardigan begins with a long I-cord, from which the first row of squares are picked up and knit. Raglan armholes intensify the angular effect, following the diagonal lines of the body. Turn the page for a how-to.

Seamless sides and mitered squares have you scratching your head?
We're here to show you how.

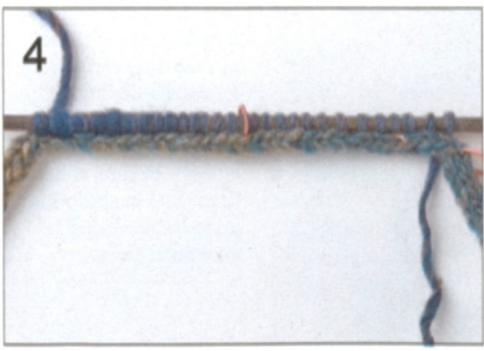

The lower edge of this jacket begins with a simple 3-st i-cord. Using double-pointed needles, k3, but do not turn the work.

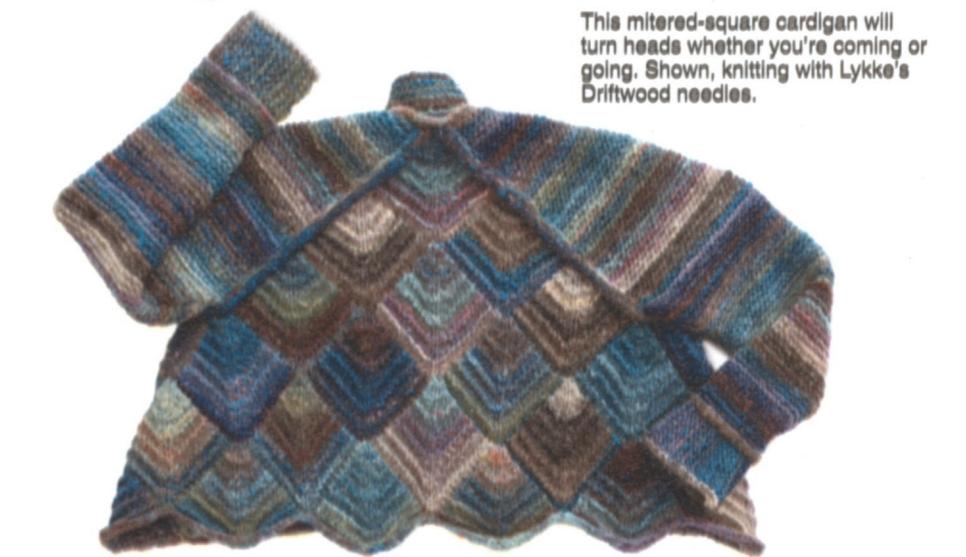

Slide the sts back to the other end of the needle to work the next row from the right side. Bring the yarn behind the work and knit the 3 sts.

After working a length of i-cord, pick up and knit sts along the edge, inserting the needle through 2 loops, as shown, and knit a stitch onto the needle.

Stitches are picked up along the i-cord edge to work the first mitered square. Be sure to pick up in a straight line, picking up in the same 2 loops.

Shown here are two completed mitered squares along the first row.

Then pick up sts along the opposite side of the second square, ready to work the next mitered square.

When coming back to work the second row of miters, pick up sts along one side of the first square, then pick up 1 st in the i-cord edge, as shown.

Feel your best self in bold stripes and touchable knits.

Left: A straightforward raglan pullover becomes so much more in the hands of Katharine Hunt. Kanzashi colorway #6 does its work in stripes of cerise, oceanic blue, and pea green, accentuating the nubby texture. Rolled edges and a slight mock turtleneck make this a bold yet casual look.

Right: Mari Lynn Patrick turns the staid cardigan into a work of art, employing the luscious purples and minty blue of Tsubame colorway #11 for maximum impact. Eye-catching slip stitches, raglan sleeves, a hook-and-eye closure, and long, sleek shaping add up to an intriguing statement piece.

Nuances of texture become palpable in a vibrant wash of color.

Annabelle Speer's raglan crewneck artfully combines two colorways of Bach: bright and punchy purple, red, and yellow #3 for the body, and its slightly subtler, sun-faded echo in #8 for the sleeves. Seed-stitch stripes alternate with stockinette, resulting in striking textural changes from stripe to stripe.

The inspiration for Faina Goberstein's generously sized wrap derived from nature, but it's perfect for cozy days at home. Staghorn-inspired cables run the length of the piece in opposite directions, with brioche stitch in between for the body and at the cables' edges. The deep, earthy tones of Miyabi colorway #18 are another call to nature, with stripes that run perpendicular to the cables.

COME AROUND

These days call out for lush, oversize knits with eminent drapeability.

PHOTOGRAPHS

One shoulder, two shoulders, wrapped around the neck: elegance and flair in every iteration.

This page: Cathy Payson's rectangular wrap is knit in the pastel blues and lilacs of Okunoshima colorway #3. A hypnotic pattern of diamond cables traverses a highly textured background, and the edges continue the texture with garter stitch borders.

Opposite: In love with oceanic blue? The stunning ultramarine of Tsuido colorway #1 is flecked with whitecaps here and there, elevating Fatimah Hinds's easy cable shawl into a colorful masterpiece. The rectangular piece is knit sideways in garter stitch, with a bold cable running along one side.

This dramatically textured wrapped cable stitch is easy to learn and fun to knit. We'll show you how.

To work the 4-st wrap, stitches are slipped back and forth while wrapping the main color yarn three times around the four slipped stitches.

Shown here, working the third wrap: With the main color (MC) in front, slip the four stitches on the right-hand needle back to the left-hand needle.

To complete the 4-st wrap, bring the MC to the back of the work and knit the four slipped stitches.

To keep the yarns from getting tangled when changing colors, always bring the MC over the contrasting color (CC).

When working a 3-st right purl cross (RPC), slip 1 CC st to the cable needle and hold it to back of work. Then k2 MC sts, and p the st from the cn.

Then always bring the CC under the MC. If you continue alternating the colors in this way, the yarns will never become twisted.

When working a 3-st left purl cross (LPC), slip 2 MC sts to cn and hold it to front of work, as shown. Then p1 CC st, and k the 2 sts from the cn.

Opposite page and right: Andi Smith's generously sized cable scarf is all about a windy walk on the dunes: the vivid maritime blues and sea greens of Silk Garden Sock color-way #S8 and Silk Garden Sock Solo #S32 summon thoughts of all things nautical, with the undulating cables reminiscent of winding paths through the dunes. An innovative four-stitch wrap pattern gives cables a modern charm. We used Lykke Driftwood needles for this tutorial.

Shown here is the wrong side of the scarf.

COOL, CALM, AND COLLECTED

When it comes to accessories, nothing ties a look together like a subtly shaded, richly textured hat.

The hazy purples and rustic browns of Tabi colorway #5 stripe horizontally across this elegant beanie. Anastasia Blaes has created a visually arresting pattern of twisted ribbing running vertically from brim to crown, with eyelets interspersed at intervals between the geometric cables.

14

A gray, cabled hat is a winter wardrobe staple if there ever was one, and Christy Kay Morse's version elevates it to a statement accessory. Tsuido colorway #7 is a moody gray with white flecks, the perfect complement to Morse's vertical zigzag cables laid over a garter stitch background.

15

No matter your wintry vestments, cables in dappled grays and neutrals are the appropriate finishing touch.

Matthew Schrank's in-the-round design is worked in the frosty grays, light blue, and muted purple of Okunoshima #2. Ribbing at the brim segues effortlessly into the twisting cables that wend their way up to the hat's crown.

Honeycombs look right at home in honeyed shades of Miyabi colorway #9. Cheryl Toy's hat takes apian inspiration to a new level, topping off these gorgeous cables and golden-hued stripes with an ebullient pompon.

CONVIVIAL COWLS

Petal-hued cowls frame the face like a bouquet of flowers.

Waves of mauve, lavender, and clay, courtesy of Okunoshima colorway #7, merge in a series of graceful texture and eyelet patterns. Knit in the round and punctuated with rows of garter stitch, Vanessa Ewing's infinity scarf can be worn unlooped for a casual air, or around the neck for coziness.

18

Shaina Billow's two-color cowl is a one-stop fashion statement, combining the deep blues and purples of Bachi colorway #7 with the nubby bouclé grays of Kanzashi colorway #1. A slip-stitch brick pattern is used throughout, and the cowl's generous height will keep your neck covered without the bulk of a double loop.

19

Bandana fans can continue to wear their favorite accessory on cooler days: Rosann Fleischauer's cowl is knit sideways from end to end, and seamed together at the back in finishing. Ito colorway #16's puce, pink, and earth tones (with pops of blue) stripe vertically across the triangular cowl.

ORNATE ORNAMENTATION

Gild your home with rich textures, deep colors, and patterns that draw the eye.

PHOTOGRAPHS BY JACK DEUTSCH,

Bonnie Franz's afghan is a texture-lover's dream, utilizing a bouclé yarn (Kanzashi) and a bulky yarn (Bachi) in the violets, blues, and greens of their respective colorway #7's. Squares are made individually, with Kanzashi worked in stockinette and Bachi worked in a broken rib stitch. Bachi is used to seam the squares in finishing with a garter-stitch edging.

20

Vibrant patterns and daring colorways give home decor a bohemian elegance.

A large staghorn-inspired center cable ensures that Audrey Drysdale's colorful pillow will grab any room's attention. Bachi colorway #5 is a moody rainbow striping horizontally behind the cables, and the cover is made up of three pieces: front and two backs, seamed with an opening left at the back for easy removal.

At right: We used Lykke Driftwood needles to demonstrate the stitches.

The central staghorn cable provides dramatic flair but is simple to knit.

8-st RC (with a cable needle): Slip 4 sts to cn and hold these sts to the back of the work, as shown.

Knit the next 4 sts on the left-hand needle, making sure that the working yarn is in front of the sts on the cn, as shown.

To complete the 8-st RC, knit the 4 sts directly from the cable needle, as shown.

8-st LC (without a cable needle): Slip the next 4 sts off the left-hand needle and let them fall to the front of the work, as shown.

Slip 4 sts from left-hand needle to right-hand needle, then slip the sts lying at the front to the left-hand needle, one at a time, as shown.

Return the 4 slipped sts from the right-hand needle back to the left-hand needle and knit these 8 twisted stitches.

SOFT SEASON

These sweaters are designed to wrap you up in comfort and ease, while keeping you on the fashion forefront.

Opposite: Lilac and lavender stripe against bursts of minty green and tangerine in Bachi colorway #11, highlighting the overall block pattern of alternating eyelet and stockinette. Garter-stitch borders edge the loose-fitting, drop-shoulder cardigan. The collar is knit separately in garter stitch and sewn on in finishing.

Above left: Make your statement in the delightful pink of Tsuido colorway #4. Two rectangles form the front and back, with a five-stitch band of seed stitch that slants across a stockinette background. A narrow band of seed stitch at the edges gives a hint of shaping. There is no finishing along the wide, casual boatneck.

Above right: Ito colorway #30 is a rainy-day rainbow in blue, purple, green, gray, and a hint of rose in this directional piece featuring a slanted rib pattern with short rows at the side seams. After the shoulder seams are sewn, sleeves are picked up and knit along the armhole edges and worked down to the deep ribbed cuffs.

Wide silhouettes, relaxed fits, and hems that hit just below a crop are your best accessory when layering is on the rise.

27

28

29

Above left: Snuggling up is easy in the earthy brown and gray of Kureyon colorway #450. Simple stockinette is dotted here and there with clusters of two-stitch right and left cables, and the silhouette is ever-so-slightly shaped, increasing from the lower edge to the bust. Set-in sleeves and rolled stockinette stitches at the edges make it an effortless choice for everyday wear.

Above right: Horizontal panels of arrow-shaped lace grace the bust and hem of this angular pullover, with vertical stripes in the pretty pastels of Okunoshima colorway #2. The construction is largely the same as #26, but the side seams here are straight rather than shaped. The top lace panel is narrower than the one below, and a narrow lace band adorns the cuffs of the stockinette sleeves.

Opposite: The rich tones of Silk Garden colorway #503 are knit in numerous directions in this visually arresting turtleneck. From the lower ribbed edge, the back's right and center panels are worked up to the shoulder before stitches are picked up and knit for the left side. The slightly shorter front is worked from left to right; stockinette-and-purl diamonds on a stockinette background add texture.

Left: Slanting stripes of the mint green, ochre, and plum of Miyabi colorway #1 take center stage in this collared vest. It's worked in two pieces from the bottom up in an overall textured knit-purl pattern, with a center back seam and two slanted slits for armholes. Short rows shape the lower edges, and all of the outer edges are self-finished.

Right: The nubby texture of Kanzashi, in seascape-shaded colorway #13, transforms the simple stockinette body of this hooded vest knit in one piece from the bottom up. Narrow garter stitch lines the lower edge, with a three-stitch garter selvage at the outer edges and armholes.

Bachi 7oz/200g; 262yds/240m: Loosely twisted, this all-wool yarn—named for the straight wooden knitting-needle-like sticks used to play Japanese taiko drums—sports a hazy halo that lends a soft quality to the gradient shades (100% wool).

Ito 7oz/200g; 437yds/400m: Neon-bright strands combine with nature-inspired hues in this woolly two-ply (100% wool). Watch the rainbow unfold as you knit with Noro's stash staple: Ito is, after all, the Japanese word for yarn.

Kanzashi 5.3oz/150g; 229yds/210m: Named for the highly ornamental headpieces worn with traditional Japanese dress, this bouclé yarn (30% mohair, 30% silk, 23% wool, 14% rayon, 3% nylon) is the ultimate attention-getter.

Kureyon 1.75oz/50g; 110yds/100m: Originating with the Western "crayon," the name couldn't be more fitting: With almost as many color combinations as a 120-color box, Kureyon (100% wool) is a true Noro classic.

Miyabi 3.5oz/100g; 273yds/250m: Its name comes from a Japanese aesthetic ideal of grace, elegance, and refinement, and cashmere-blend Miyabi is perfect for shawls, hats, tops, and more (65% wool, 35% cashmere).

Okunoshima 3.5oz/100g; 241yds/220m: Okunoshima is a small island best known as "Rabbit Island" for its plentiful, furry wild denizens, making it an apt name for this soft yarn (35% silk, 28% wool, 20% angora, 17% mohair).

Silk Garden 1.75oz/50g; 110yds/100m: Luxurious silk, mohair, and lamb's wool combine in a veritable garden of fibers (45% silk, 45% mohair, 10% lamb's wool). Loosely plied strands take dyes differently, adding a rustic touch to the elegant silken sheen.

Silk Garden Solo 1.75oz/50g; 110yds/100m: Silk Garden's solid cousin features the same fiber content (45% silk, 45% mohair, 10% lamb's wool), this time in jewel and neutral tones, some flecked with tiny bursts of color.

Silk Garden Sock 3.5oz/100g; 328yds/300m: The fast-striping colorways of Silk Garden's littlest sister add depth to lace and fine-weight garments. A generous strand of nylon strengthens socks (40% wool, 25% silk, 25% nylon, 10% mohair).

Silk Garden Sock Solo 3.5oz/100g; 328yds/300m: Silk Garden Sock's solid cousin features the same fiber content (40% wool, 25% silk, 25% nylon, 10% mohair) in jewel and neutral tones, some flecked with tiny bursts of color.

Tabi 5.25oz/150g; 410yds/375m: It's named after the traditional tabi socks with a split toe, worn with sandals, but this DK-weight yarn (65% wool, 35% polyamide) can do so much—socks, shawls, hats, mittens, sweaters, and more.

Tsubame 7oz/200g; 656yds/600m: Named for the swallow, a symbol of fidelity and good luck, this loosely plied silk blend (50% silk, 25% wool, 25% polyamide) adds wool for strength and polyamide for the perfect hand.

Tsuido 7oz/200g; 350yds/320m: Japanese for "tweed," Tsuido is a nubby, bulky-weight, semisolid yarn (100% wool) scattered with pleasing pops of color.

German Twisted Cast-on Measure out a long end of yarn for the number of sts required for the cast-on and make a slip knot.

Hold the needle in place as for the long-tail cast-on method.

Place the needle under both strands of yarn around your thumb and underneath the strand around the front of your thumb forming an eyelet.

Bring the needle back behind the yarn on your index finger and through the thumb eyelet loop.

Release the loop and tighten the st. Rep until the required number of sts are cast on.

Hat

With circular needle, cast on 108 sts using the German twisted cast-on method. Join to work in rnds, taking care not to twist sts and pm for beg of rnd.

Note

As the pattern will "zig zag" to either side of the beg of rnd marker, sl the marker to a new position, when necessary, to keep it to the right of the first k2. After the last pat rnd of the rep, the marker will eventually move back to the original position.

Using scrap yarn and crochet hook, ch the number of sts to cast on plus a few extra. Cut a tail and pull the tail through the last chain. With knitting needle and yarn, pick up and knit the stated number of sts through the "purl bumps" on the back of the chain. To remove scrap yarn chain, when instructed, pull out the tail from last crochet stitch. Gently and slowly pull on the tail to unravel the crochet stitches, carefully placing each released knit stitch on a needle.

4. When you have completed all the short rows, you must hide the wraps. Work to just before the wrapped stitch. Insert the right needle from behind into the back loop of the wrap. Place it on the left needle, as shown. Purl it together with the stitch on the left needle.

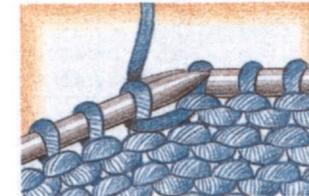

short row w&t (purl side)

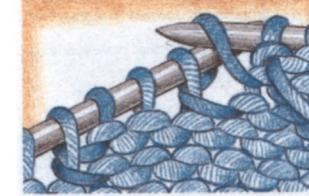

1. To prevent holes in the piece and create a smooth transition, wrap a purl stitch as follows: With the yarn at the front, slip the next stitch purlwise.

2. Move the yarn between the needles to the back of the work.

3. Slip the same stitch back to the left needle. Turn the work, bringing the yarn back to the purl side between the needles. One stitch is wrapped.

4. After working the short rows, you must hide the wraps. Work to just before the wrapped stitch. Insert the right needle from behind into the back loop of the wrap. Place it on the left needle, as shown. Purl it together with the stitch on the left needle.

* GUIDELINES ONLY: The above reflect the most commonly used gauges and needle or hook sizes for specific yarn categories.

 Lace weight yarns are usually knitted or crocheted on larger needles and hooks to create lacy, openwork patterns. Accordingly, a gauge range is difficult to determine. Always follow the gauge stated in your pattern.

 Steel crochet hooks are sized differently from regular hooks—the higher the number, the smaller the hook, which is the reverse of regular hook sizing.

GAUGE

Knitting gauge—the number of stitches and rows per inch—determines the size of the garment you are making. Every knitting pattern states the gauge, or “tension,” on which the sizing is based. For successful results, it is essential to test your knitting against this measurement before you start a project. Make a test swatch at least 4”/10cm square, using the yarn and needle size called for in the pattern. Then measure your swatch using a ruler or a knit gauge tool. If the number of stitches and rows does not match the pattern’s gauge, you must change your needle size. An easy rule to follow is: TO GET FEWER STITCHES TO THE INCH/CM, USE A LARGER NEEDLE; TO GET MORE STITCHES TO THE INCH/CM, USE A SMALLER NEEDLE. Try different needle sizes until you get the proper stitch and row gauge.

GLOSSARY

bind off

To finish off an edge and keep stitches from unraveling by lifting the first stitch over the second, the second over the third, etc. (U.K.: cast off).

bind off in ribbing

Maintain the rib pattern as you bind off (knit the knit stitches; purl the purl stitches). (U.K.: cast off in ribbing) cast on

Form a foundation row by making specified number of loops on the knitting needle.

decrease

Reduce the number of stitches in a row (i.e., knit 2 together; purl 2 together).

increase

Add to the number of stitches in a row (i.e., knit in front and back of stitch).

knitwise

Insert the needle into the stitch as if you were going to knit it.

make one

Insert tip of LH needle from front to back under the strand between the last stitch worked and the next stitch on the needle. Knit into the back loop to increase one stitch.

make one purl stitch

With the needle tip, lift the strand between the last stitch worked and the next stitch on left-hand needle and purl it. One purl stitch has been added.

no stitch

On some charts, “no stitch” is indicated with shaded spaces where stitches have been decreased or not yet made. In such cases, work the stitches of the chart, skipping over the “no stitch” spaces.

place markers

Loop a piece of contrasting yarn or a purchased stitch marker onto the needle.

pick up and knit (purl)

Knit (or purl) into the loops along an edge.

purlwise:

Insert the needle into the stitch as if you were going to purl it.

selvage stitch

Edge stitch that helps make seaming easier.

skip

Skip specified number of stitches of the previous row and work into next stitch. (U.K.: miss) slip, slip, knit

Slip next two sts knitwise, one at a time, to right-hand needle. Insert tip of left-hand needle into fronts of these sts from left to right and knit them together to decrease one stitch.

slip stitch

In knitting, pass a stitch from the left-hand to the right-hand needle as if to purl without working it. In crochet, insert hook through loop or edge, yarn over and pull through loop on hook. (U.K.: abbreviation—ss or sc)

work even

Continue in specified pattern without increasing or decreasing. (U.K.: work straight) yarn over

In knitting, make a new stitch by placing the yarn over the right-hand needle. (U.K.: yfwd, yon, yrn) In crochet, wind yarn around hook. (U.K.: yoh or yrh)
