HOUSE DESIGN

1. Make the templates from a sheet of paper for four windows, a front door, and two trapeziums for flowerpots.

2. Prepare:

- Felt in three colors (brown, light brown, red)
- Scissors
- Pencil
- Tapestry needle
- Moline embroidery threads (brown, white, several shades of pink, two shades of green).

Moline threads of green shades should not be matched with the color of the house.

3. Put the template of the front door on the red felt and trace around it. Cut it out.

4. Draw all vertical and horizontal lines on red felt with a pencil.

5. Put all templates of four windows on brown felt and trace around them. Also, trace around small trapeziums on the light brown felt.

6. Embroider the front door with brown thread as guided in the photos.

EMBROIDER THE FRONT DOOR

Embroider the marked horizontal and vertical lines with brown thread. Also, embroider the upper semicircular part of the door.

Fasten the thread on the backside of the part. Cut the excess thread.

EMBROIDER THE WINDOWS

Before starting, split the embroidery Muline thread into three parts. Use two threads. Embroider vertical and horizontal stitches.

Fasten the thread on the backside of the part. Cut the excess thread.

Embroider the upper windows of the houses similarly.

Put the paper template on the felt, and pin the points of embroidering of the horizontal lines.

After embroidering, fasten the thread on the backside of the window.

Place all embroidered windows and templates from light brown felt on the house.

EMBROIDER THE TREE.

Pin the parameters of the front door and the lower window, for a guideline of embroidering the height of the tree.

Take off the windows and doors. Attach brown thread at the point of the front door. Draw the needle out to the bottom of the house, embroider the tree trunk with three stitches, guiding on the pins. (Follow the photos).

Embroider the roots of the tree.

Pass the needle behind the embroidered tree trunk, and insert the needle into the loop, tighten the knot gently. Make a stitch to the right. The distance is two stitches from the tree trunk. Draw the needle out behind the tree trunk to its lower part.

Embroider the second root similarly. Make one stitch to the left from the tree trunk and draw the needle out to the upper part of the tree trunk to embroider the tree branches.

Once the tree branches are embroidered, draw the needle to the initial point and tie the threads into a knot. Cut the excess thread.

Embroider the crown of the tree with two shades of green.

Attach green yarn at the point of the front door.

Draw the needle to the upper part of the tree branch, make a small stitch, and do not pull out the needle to the end. (The length of the stitch is 0,5 sc).

Wrap four turns of thread on the needle, pull out the needle and pierce the needle towards another knot.

Repeat the action several times, keeping a small distance between the knots in order to embroider the knots in a different shade of green.

Continue embroidering the crown of the tree with the other shade of green.

Secure thread. Cut the excess thread.

Place the front door and windows on the house.

Glue them to the house except for the light brown felt details. We will embroider the pink knots (flowers) on them.

Embroider the knots on the light brown felt.

Insert the needle from the back of the part to the front side, make a small stitch, wrap three turns of thread on the needle and pierce it back.

Embroider the knots in a chaotic order with the threads of different shades.

If the bottom edge of the felt is a little fuzzy, trim it with scissors.

Embroider the embroidered part to the bottom part of the window.

HOUSE DESIGN

1. Make the templates from a sheet of paper for two windows and a front door.

2. Put the template of the front door on the brown felt and trace around it. Cut it out.

3. Before starting, split the embroidery Muline thread into three parts. Use two threads. Embroider vertical and horizontal stitches.

4. To embroider the door, choose a Muline thread slightly lighter in shade than the door itself.

Sew vertical and horizontal stitches on the door.

5. Place all parts from the felt (windows and door) on the house.

Pin the bottom part of the window and the right side of the door. Take off the felt.

6. Embroider the tree trunk with brown thread.

Embroider the trunk of this tree in several stages.

Make two stitches (the length of the stitch is approximately 8 rows upward) and wrap along the entire length of the stitch with the same thread. Continue to embroider two stitches and wrap along the entire length until you get the desired shape of the trunk.

Embroider the crown of the tree

Prepare Muline threads in white, green, and several different shades of pink.

The crown of this tree is different from the tree on the first house.

In this version, having pierced the needle in the right point for embroidering a knot, do not leave the needle for wrapping, but pull it out completely and wrap thread on the needle 3-4 turns.

After that, pierce the needle towards another knot.

Complete embroidering of the crown of the tree by knots of white and light pink shades.

THE ADDITION TO THE DESIGN OF THE FRONT DOOR

Add some detail to the front door by drawing vertical and horizontal lines with a white permanent marker (use a permanent marker only).

Place the windows and front door on the house. DO NOT GLUE!

Mark the parameters of the upper window with pins.

The middle pin on the window is a mark to start embroidering knots on the left and right sides.

Embroider the knots randomly as we embroidered the crown of the tree. Alternate the shades of the thread and distribute the knots from the window up to the roof of the house.

Add some green knots.

Embroider a few knots on the right side too.

Glue the windows and front door.

BALCONIES

Cut out two small rectangles, slightly wider than the windows from white felt.

Split the brown embroidery thread into three parts. Use two threads. Always insert the needle from the bottom up, wrapping the bottom edge of the felt with a thread.

Embroider two horizontal stitches. Secure thread on the backside. Cut the excess thread.

Embroider a few knots in the upper part of the felt with threads of different shades of pink.

Fasten the thread on the backside and cut the excess thread. Glue the ready balconies to the house.

ROOF (make 2)

The parts of the second house are shorter than the first by two rounds.

YARN - Alize Cotton Gold No. 56 (red) and a 2.25 mm crochet hook.

Chain 23. Start crocheting in the second chain from hook – 1 inc, 20 sc, 4 sc in the last stitch.

Continue crocheting on the other side of the chain foundation – 20 sc, 1 inc (48)

Rnds 2-21: 48 sc (22 rounds), 1 sl st

Insert the cardboard template. Complete crocheting the required number of stitches to the edge— 2 sc. Break yarn.

Crochet the second part similarly. Insert the cardboard template. Complete crocheting the required number of stitches to the edge— 2 sc. Break yarn.

JOIN THE PARTS

1. Fold the parts with the holes facing upward.
2. Sew the inner sides of the roof with red thread.
3. Put the roof on the house.
4. Crochet one round through the outer sides of the parts in a circle.
5. Join the parts with – sc.
