PATTERN INFORMATION

Frosted Violets is a skinny shawlette knit in Stockinette Stitch worked from point to point. Beginning with a few cast-on stitches, increases are made along the right side edge every four rows until the correct depth of the shawlette is achieved. Then decreases are made along the same edge until the shawlette is complete. The pattern alternates eight rows of Soft Alpaca and Kid Silk held together with a two-row skinny stripe in just Kid Silk. The first and last stitches of every row are worked in Garter Stitch.

This pattern is beginner friendly.

Note! This pattern uses nearly all of both skeins. If you think you might like to make this larger be sure to prepare ahead of time by acquiring extra skeins.

INFO AND TIPS

Garter Stitch

All Rows: Knit.

Stockinette Stitch

Row 1 (RS): Knit.

Row 2 (WS): Purl.

Tips

1. This pattern uses nearly all of both skeins. If you think you might like to make this larger (which is easy to do!) be sure to prepare ahead of time by acquiring extra skeins.
2. A handy way to keep track of rows (and therefore, where you are in the pattern) is by placing a removable stitch marker every ten rows.
3. I also recommend using a different colored removable stitch marker or progress marker to keep track of when to decrease/increase.
4. Please take the time to swatch to obtain the correct gauge. Block your swatch as you intend to block the shawlette. Wet blocking will cause this shawlette to expand several cm / inches in length. I find that it is the best method for blocking as it helps the stitches to settle nicely and creates the most polished finish.
